Innovation Fellowship Program

For Point-of-Care Health Professionals

CAP Fellowship in Kidney Health

Funded by a generous grant from Amgen Canada

Are you a point-of-care health professional practicing in the area of kidney care at UHN? Do you have an idea for improving care for this population? If so, you should consider applying for the 2017 CAP Fellowship in Kidney Health.

What is the CAP Fellowship Program?

- The CAP Fellowship Program is a unique opportunity for health professionals at UHN to lead a practice-based quality improvement project while learning about leading change in a complex academic health organization. Successful applicants will receive two eight hour paid protected days per week between September 2017 and March 2018 to complete their project activities.

Who is eligible to apply for the CAP Fellowship in Kidney Health?

- Full-time or part-time point-of-care health professionals who do not already have professional development or research time built into their roles and who are not in formal leadership positions.
- Eligible applicants must practice in an area primarily focused on patients with kidney health issues and have an idea for improving kidney care at UHN.

Project Requirements:

- Eligible projects will demonstrate the potential for significant and positive impact on patient care, more specifically kidney care, at UHN.

Deadline to apply is May 25th, 2017 at 1200h (noon)
